CONDEMNED MAN SENDS MESSAGE FROM HIS CELL

Hoffman, Attorneys Also Act to Bring Witness from Panama Rest

QUESTIONS A WAITING

Fisher Admits Outlook for Lindbergh Kidnaping Becoming Dark

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 21.—(UP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's spiritual advisor today appealed to Lutheran clergymen throughout the country to intercede in an effort to save the Lindbergh baby slayer from the electric chair.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 21.—(UP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann begged from his death house cell today for a chance to cross examine Dr. John F. (Jafsie) Condon.

Gov. Harold G. Hoffman and Hauptmann's attorneys moved together to induce Condon to return from Panama, where he is resting after a vaudeville tour.

At the same time that Hauptmann told Prison Warden Mark O. Kimmerling of his desire to interview Condon, Attorney C. Lloyd Fisher revealed that he had written the Bronx educator, asking him to return immediately to explain alleged discrepancies between his testimony at Hauptmann's trial and statements he has made since.

Convinced of Identity
Condon was the "go-between" who established contact with the Lindbergh baby kidnaper through newspaper advertisements in which he signed himself "Jafsie." He paid $50,000 ransom to a man he identified as Hauptmann. At Hauptmann's trial he said he was convinced Hauptmann committed the kidnapping without accomplices.

"Now we have a news reel film of Condon which shows that he said Hauptmann must have had accomplices," Fisher said.

Governor Hoffman has formulated four specific questions that he wants "Jafsie" to answer. He contemplated addressing a letter to Condon himself if Fisher's plea to him to return is ineffective. The points he thinks Condon should clarify are:

1. Why did Condon say that more than one person was involved in the kidnapping, then testify that Hauptmann was alone in the crime?

2. How does he account for the fact that, as he has said, someone

DAVIS' ILLNESS CAUSES DELAY IN LAND CONTEST

Due to illness of Ray W. Davis, county prosecutor, trial of the suit of the commissioners against Stanley Peters, and others, involving the question of title on a parcel of real estate at Western-ave and Water-st, was postponed in common pleas Friday morning.

Both parties contend they own the property. The commissioners were involved when a resident of the county home deeded his property to the county.

Mrs. Howard Orr, S. Court-st., underwent a major operation in Berger hospital Friday morning.

HEIFER WEIGHING 1,680 POUNDS SOLD TO DAVIES

This story isn't a lot of bull, but a lot of heifer in any man's country.

A Holstein heifer weighing 1,680 pounds, believed to be the largest ever raised in this section of Ohio, was sold at the local livestock barn this week. The sale price was $6.30 a hundred and netted the raiser, Roscoe Stout of Orient, $105.84. The David Davies Co., Columbus, was the purchaser.

A number of farmers reported a 1,400 pound heifer was "big" but this one was the largest they had ever viewed. "She looked like she was on stilts," one said.

20,000 WORKERS IN OHIO IDLE AS STRIKES SPREAD

Three Goodyear Plants and Airport Picketed; Barber-ton Plant Affected

By UNITED PRESS
Labor difficulties affecting more than 20,000 workers beset two large industrial areas of northern Ohio today.

Northeastern Ohio, principally at Akron, was the battleground of four labor disputes, one of which already has reached serious proportions. The industrial warfare extended west to Toledo, where one factory had a strike situation.

Picketing of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.'s three plants and airship dock at Akron was orderly today but hearing on the company's suit to enjoin mass picketing cast a foreboding atmosphere.

PWA FUND GONE, LOCAL PROJECTS PUT IN DISCARD

High School Addition, New Darby School, Court House Building Lost

LITTLE HOPE EXISTING

Boulay Reports All Money Allocated; Others in District to Fail

Three major Circleville and Pickaway-co projects, totalling $188,550, are doomed to failure unless the Public Works administration obtains a new appropriation.

They are: Circleville school, $82,000. Darby-twp school, $55,000. Pickaway-co court house, $51,500.

State PWA Director L. A. Boulay attended a conference in Washington, D. C. this week and reported that Ohio still had 96 projects pending with a total cost of $2,872,986.

"Unless," he said, "further funds are made available none of these allotted projects may ever reach realization because all appropriations allotted to PWA have been exhausted."

In this list are the three Pickaway-co projects. To date, Mr. Boulay reported, Ohio has been allotted loans and grants totalling $16,311,425, making possible construction of 239 projects with an estimated total cost of $30,492,047.

Other projects in this district which appear lost as a result of the money being exhausted are: Amanda school, $39,742; Washington C. H. school, $100,000; Ross-co, Centralia school, $56,830, and Huntington-twp school $36,662; Madison-co, Jefferson school, $80,686.

The local school project would make an addition to the high school and Corwin-st. buildings. The voters of Circleville have already approved a $50,000 bond issue for the school, as have the voters of Darby-twp.

Little Change in Midwest Temperature is Predicted

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—(UP)—Forecasts of "no decided change in temperature" over the week-end cheered the midwest today after a day of comparatively mild weather.

The month-long sub-zero wave which marooned scores of villages in the blizzard belt appeared definitely broken.

A temporary telephone line was opened to the snowbound village of Two Creeks, in northern Wisconsin, revealing that residents had enough food to last for two or three more days. Highway workers believe a road will be opened by that time.

The menace of floods became increasingly serious. Twelve persons, marooned in their homes at Spottsville, Ky., by flood waters of the Green River, were rescued by the cutter Kankakee, which smashed its way through heavy ice.

Although suffering from exposure, the two women, five children and five men were not in serious condition. Three of the men had spent the night on open ground when water inundated their homes.

The coast guard cutter Escanaba continued efforts to free ships trapped in Lake Michigan ice after breaking through to two freight ferries 20 miles off Ludington, Mich.

MAYOR DEFENDS COST OF RELIEF CITING DEMANDS

Graham Declares Situation This Winter Has Been Unusual in City

MANY FAMILIES NEEDY

Official Declares Council's Appropriation for Aid too Small

"We will carry out instructions of councilmen but I want people to realize we have been faced with an unusual situation this winter," Mayor W. J. Graham said Friday morning in reply to an order of council for a special meeting of the finance committee with Safety Director Charles Caskey to settle relief matters.

"Councilmen used previous years as their basis for appropriating $100 for relief during the first three months of 1936," Mayor Graham said. "We have never had such a condition as exists this year. There are more cold and hungry people and less work now than in any previous years."

Doing Personal Work

"We are warding relief cases to the county as fast as it is possible for us to do so. I have personally investigated some of the cases, and it is almost humanly impossible to deny some of these people relief. We have some we can't turn down. People have suffered during this severe winter and you know it is the worst in years."

"We want to work for the satisfaction of council and the community and if council wants us to say 'no' we will do so. When they arrange the meeting I'll attend it. "If you think this problem hasn't been serious, what would you think of furnishing some men coal to prevent them from being arrested for trespassing on railroad property looking for it. That is one of the things we have faced," he declared.

"I forgot about the council meeting or I would have been there."

Time Not Yet Set

Councilman Ben Gordon, chairman of the finance committee, said no definite time has yet been set for the meeting but he hoped the meeting could be arranged "sometime Saturday."

The meeting was called after a report was given the city dads that the city's appropriation for relief during the first three months had been exceeded "between $150 and $200," without the authorization of council.

M'MULLEN, ARMY MAN, IS GUILTY OF MISCONDUCT

Court-Martial Reduces Rank of Man Accepting Rail Tickets, Assesses Fine

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(UP)—A military court martial found Col. Joseph I. McMullen, Army legal aide, guilty of "dishonorable conduct" last night in accepting a gift of two railroad tickets.

McMullen was acquitted on two other charges involving alleged bribery. He was sentenced to a reduction in rank, reprimand and fined $3,600.

The court found the officer guilty of accepting two railroad tickets as gratuities from Joseph Silverman Jr., a dealer in surplus Army goods, while Silverman was negotiating contracts with the Army.

Maj. Gen. Upton Birnie, chief of field artillery and president of the court, announced the verdict after four days trial at Walter Reed hospital. Prominent politicians had testified for McMullen.

The veteran officer received the verdict calmly. He will be reduced in rank to the foot of his grade in the Army and reprimanded by either the secretary of war or the president.

The fine will be deducted at the rate of $150 a month for the remaining two years of his active service in the Army. He is now 62 years old and must retire at the age of 64.

Attorneys for McMullen conceded he accepted two round trip tickets from Silverman, but contended they were part payment on an automobile and not gifts.

The court, composed of three brigadier generals and seven colonels, found McMullen acted "wrongfully, dishonorably and to the discredit of the military service" by accepting the tickets in January, 1934.

20,000 WORKERS IN OHIO IDLE AS STRIKES SPREAD

sphere around the strike that has tied up production and affected close to 15,000 workers.

Six Judges Seated

A six-judge court heard arguments of both sides on the injunction request and a ruling was believed imminent. The company contended the strikers had picketed the plant unlawfully and had interfered with the company's production and business. Mediation efforts have been unsuccessful.

Ohio national guard observers watched the Goodyear situation closely.

The "sit down" strike at the closed Columbia Chemical Co. plant in Barborton, near Akron, continued today. Strikers have been sitting idly by their machines for more than 45 hours rather than establish a picket line in the cold.

The company indicated its willingness to let the men remain inside the plant as long as they do no damage. A committee of 10 appointed by the men brings them food and tobacco. The dispute started over a four-cent wage increase proposal.

24 Non-Union Workers

Mediation of a dispute between union and non-union women employees of the Libbey-Owens-Ford glass factory at Toledo began today with arrival of Glen W. McCabe, Columbus, president of the Federation of Flat Glass Workers of America. The trouble started in the assembly department when 24 women who are union workers refused to work with two non-union workers.

Negotiations between Akron milk companies and union milk drivers to settle a wage dispute were postponed until Monday night. Chet Smead, business agent of the union, reported the dealers had rejected an offer to arbitrate. Smead said the union had dropped its closed shop request and had lowered its wage increase demands.

Cleveland union truck drivers have voted to strike on March 1 if employers have not accepted a request for a 10 cents an hour wage increase by that time.

offered him $250,000 to change his trial testimony. Hauptmann was in jail when the offer allegedly was made.

3. Who was the man with Italian accent who broke into a telephone conversation between Hauptmann and Condon about ransom?

4. Who was a woman who entered a charity bazaar to make an appointment to meet Condon, and why did he not keep it?

Warden Powerless

Hauptmann, undoubtedly brood-

ing in his cell over the same points that interested Hoffman and Fisher, made his request to see Condon in another letter to Warden Kimberling. Kimberling pointed out that he was powerless, but indicated he had transmitted the letter's import to the governor. Fisher revealed that he believes Condon holds one of Hauptmann's last hope to escape the electric chair in the week of March 30. "The outlook is dark," he admitted.

Hoffman, convinced that Hauptmann at least had accomplices who should be found before he is executed, has been unable to obtain evidence enough to win clemency from the state pardons court and has said he will not grant another reprieve.

STATE'S LIQUOR PLAN IS REVISED TO AID ECONOMY

Humphrey Announces Offices to Be Set Up in All 11 Districts

COLUMBUS, Feb. 21.—(UP)—Liquor Enforcement Chief Al Humphrey today announced plans for revision of enforcement operations in the state.

According to the new plans there will be 11 enforcement districts in the state with headquarters established at Toledo, Lima, Dayton, Cincinnati, Sandusky, Columbus, Portsmouth, Cleveland, Zanesville, Canton and Youngstown.

Previously, enforced units in many of the districts have been operated from headquarters in hotel rooms. Instead regular officers will be established in the districts.

Humphrey believes that by establishing regular headquarters, that economy will be effected.

May Make Complaints

"This will enable citizens to become familiar with a central headquarters where complaints may be registered," Humphrey said.

Involved in the plan to reorganize the state districts are several changes. Headquarters of the ninth district will be moved from Marietta to Zanesville. Meigs-co will be taken from the Zanesville district and added to the Portsmouth district. Fayette-co will be taken from the Portsmouth district and placed in the Columbus district, Humphrey said.

Darke, Miami, Champaign Clark counties, formerly in the Lima district, together with Preble, Montgomery and Greene from the Cincinnati district will be made into a new district with headquarters at Dayton.

BRUNO'S SISTER RAPS ATTORNEY

Mrs. Gloeckner Says Leibowitz Betrayed Hauptmann

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 21.—(UP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's sister today denounced Samuel Leibowitz, New York criminal attorney, for withdrawing from her brother's defense and accused him of "betraying" the condemned man.

The sister, Mrs. Emma Gloeckner, in a statement issued by her Attorney, Vincent A. Margo, said that Leibowitz had "almost criminally violated the sacred relation between a lawyer and client."

Mrs. Gloeckner and Margo both were bitter over reported statements by Leibowitz that he believed Hauptmann guilty.

"This man, who has saved 112 persons from the electric chair, not only withdrew from the case, but issued a statement which committed an almost irreparable injury upon his client."

"When a lawyer confers with a client and then violates the confidence of that client by issuing a public statement saying he believes his client is guilty, he commits the most vicious betrayal within the power of an attorney."

The statement deplored the "incompetence of counsel" retained for Hauptmann and said that the condemned man was suffering through failure of his attorneys "to interpret the evidence already offered."

"Now, in addition to incompetence, he suffers from the abuse of the most sacred privilege a lawyer has with his client."

Lutheran Program in Charge of J. D. Hummel; Lincoln and Washington Eulogized in Interesting Evening

Trinity Lutheran brotherhood held Thursday evening in the parish house was given over to the celebration of the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln, as well as the birthdays of all members whose natal days fall in February. The two members present having birthdays in the month were: George W. Valentine and Harry Bartholomew.

The business meeting was short, after which a half hour social session was held, during which time E. Sensenbrenner and committee served country style smoked sausage sandwiches and coffee to the delight of all. E. C. Ebert was regular chairman of this committee, but owing to his being interloper in the C. A. C. minstrels, Mr. Sensenbrenner substituted for him.

The program, in charge of J. D. Hummel, opened by the entire Brotherhood singing "America," after which Charles Walters read the poem, "The American Flag," by Joseph Rodman Drake.

J. D. Hummel followed by reading the poem, "The American Eagle," which so strikingly depicts the emblem of American liberty.

"The Memory of Our Fathers," a beautiful prose selection by Lyman Beecher, was impressively read by Rev. G. L. Troutman, after which the entire Brotherhood inspiring sang the National anthem: "The Star Spangled Banner."

Mr. Hummel then conducted a short history lesson on George Washington. H. H. Groce gave General Henry Lee's "Eulogy on Washington," this being followed by the reading of Sir Win. Jones' poem "What Constitutes a State."

Then another history period: the questions pertaining to "The Great Emancipator," Abraham Lincoln.

George G. Griffith was next introduced and read the "Boyhood of Lincoln," this being followed by the reading to Lincoln's Gettysburg Address by Hummel.

The program was brought to a fitting close by the Brotherhood singing the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The record on the three months attendance contest, with J. D. Hummel on charge of list of members whose surnames begin with letters "A" to "H" inclusive and Rev. G. L. Troutman as captain of those from "G" to "Z," last evening disclosed a close race, with Hummel's class only one point in the lead.

The next regular session will be

Large Group Enjoys D. U. V. Patriotic Tea

150 Gather for Annual Affair Held in Memorial Hall

Over one hundred and fifty persons gathered at the Memorial hall Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock for the Patriotic tea sponsored by the Catherine Wolfley Hedges tent Daughters of the Union Veterans.

This is always one of the most enjoyable events of the year for the local tent. Patriotic decorations made the Post room attractive and several of the members who were in charge and who took part on the program were appropriately dressed in colonial costumes and styles of Lincoln's time.

Mrs. Cora Coffland and Mrs. James Carpenter were dressed as Lincoln and Washington, respectively. They assisted the committee in extending hospitalities.

Mrs. A. M. Newton, president of the tent, extended greetings and then presented Mrs. E. L. Tolbert, general chairman of the affair, who introduced the various numbers on the program.

Mrs. Tolbert first told of the purpose of the organization and the achievements of the local tent during its eight years of existence.

An impressive patriotic exercise was conducted by the patriotic instructor and color bearers. Group singing of America was followed by the flag salute, the flag being presented by Mrs. Frank Rader, patriotic instructor, Mrs. Frank Webbe, Mrs. Irene Jenkins, Mrs. L. E. Miller, and Mrs. George Hammel, color bearers. Mrs. Nellie Boyle was the piano accompanist.

The Courtship and Marriage of George Washington was interestingly told by Mrs. Helen Black Anderson after which Mrs. John Bragg entertained with two vocal solos, playing her own accompaniment on the accordion.

Mrs. James P. Moffitt and Mrs. Melvin Yates sang "My Old Kentucky Home," and Mrs. Moffitt's solo was "Sweet Song of Long Ago" by Ernest Charles. Miss Abbe M. Clarke accompanied them at the piano.

A love story of Lincoln's time depicting the hatred which existed between the North and the South was told in a pleasing manner by Mrs. James Trimmer.

Red, white and blue were predominant in the refreshments served from a table lighted with red, white and blue candles and centered with red carnations and white bunnies. Each guest was given a small silk flag as a favor.

Mrs. E. S. Neuding and Miss Laura Mader poured tea and were assisted by Mrs. Eleanor Bessell and Mrs. E. L. Price.

Receiving the guests at the door were Mrs. Frank Rader, Mrs. Frank Webbe, and Miss Emma Mader.

Young Actor in Peter Pan; First Boy to Play Fine Role

Freddie Bartholomew on Radio Theatre Hour Monday Evening; Ripley to Describe Out-of-Way Marriages

Freddie Bartholomew will play "Peter Pan" in the Radio Theatre on Monday and the theatre's most famous boy-character will be played by a boy for the first time. All previous interpreters of the role have been women, and in their ranks are some of the best known actresses of the modern theatre.

So great are the acting demands made on the player who impersonates the lad of Sir James M. Barrie's imagination that the drama has never before been attempted with a child. The role has always been assigned to an actress of slight figure and great talent who could successfully create the illusion of a child.

As Peter Pan he joins a company of some of the theatre's most illustrious names, around whom centers much of the glamour of the twentieth century stage. Now that a child-actor of Freddie Bartholomew's ability is available, producers of the Radio Theatre determined to take the historic step. The play will be broadcast over a WABC-CBS network at 9 p. m.

Freddie Bartholomew came over to this country from England to play the part of David Copperfield in the picture based on Dickens' novel. His success was so immediate that he has remained in Hollywood ever since. He has been heard over the radio on two occasions but never before in a complete play.

ANNUAL COUNTY CAGE TOURNAMENT BEGINS AT 7 P. M.

WASHINGTON-TWP MEETS JACKSON IN FIRST GAME

School Men Consider Competition Wide Open; Ashville Dominant in Season

Considered as one of the outstanding competitions in recent years, the annual Pickaway-co basketball tournament will start at 7 o'clock this evening in the Athletic Club gymnasium with four games on the schedule.

Jackson-twp plays Washington-twp at 7 o'clock; Monroe-twp and Ashville are booked at 8; Perry-twp and Williamsport tangle at 9, the first girls' game; Walnut-twp against Darby-twp, starts at 10.

The Saturday afternoon session starts at 1 o'clock with four more games planned. The 1 p. m. contest finds New Holland and Darby pitted.

Ashville Dominant

The tournament should be outstanding since no team, with the possible exception of Ashville, has dominated the year's play. Al Kauber's Harrison-twp team went through the season unbeaten, but met some stiff opposition in the later weeks; especially from Monroe which team it faces tonight in its initial tournament test.

New Holland has played good ball despite its defeat by Ashville. Four teams, however, Pickaway, Darby, Walnut, and Atlanta, put the pressure on Shadel Saunders' team forcing the quintet headed by Everett Landman to put on all its pressure.

New Holland is considered one of the possible finalists, but there are a lot of teams able to bump either New Holland or Ashville. Surprise teams, rather "dark-horses," are considered to be Pickaway, Williamsport, Atlanta, and Monroe. Jackson, Walnut, Saltcreek, Darby or, in fact, any of the others might come out ahead but their season's records do not favor them.

The girls' game tonight throws together Walnut and Darby. The latter team went through the season unbeaten until it met Walnut on the Derby court, then lost in a great game. The outcome of this game looks like a toss-up.

Babb to Officiate

Kroger Babb, popular Wilmington official, will be in charge of all games. Babb will be handling his third consecutive Pickaway-co tournament, and no one has yet found any reason to criticize his work. A thorough knowledge of all the rules of the game, speed necessary to keep on top the play, and a true sense of sportsmanship make Babb one of the most sought-after officials in southern Ohio.

Tourney officials did not go wrong in employing him. We'll be seeing you tonight.

RUNYAN LEADING FIELD IN FLORIDA GOLF MEET

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 21.—(UP)—Despite a brilliant 68, Paul "Little Poison" Runyan today commanded only a one-stroke over the field in the $2,500 St. Petersburg open golf tournament at the Lakewood course.

Hard on his heels were Johnny Revolta, P. G. A. champion, and Johnny Hines, who were tied with 69's.

About This And That In Many Sports

Tournament on Tonight

Tonight's tie night—You take your choice; we haven't any ***

First game's 7 o'clock and other contests follow at 8, 9 and 10—OUR WARNING: be there early ***

Who'll be Winnah?

The wintah! : : : ? ? ? That won't be known until Feb. 29 about 10 p. m. and there are very few persons even inkling what might happen—Despite the splendid Ashville record this tournament is as wide open as any we can recall in the last six years—There are several teams strong enough to upset the old dope bucket—Ashville meets its first test at 8 o'clock this evening, and it is in the form of the Monroe twp quintet, which forced the Kauber-men to turn on the steam last week ***

Ashville, Darby Win

Regardless of who wins the tournament Ashville boys and Darby girls are sure of trophies, presented by The Herald—They'll be put on display somewhere up-town next week and will be presented at the conclusion of the tournament—Possession is for a year but any team leading the league for three straight years gains permanent possession ***

Van Zandt and Wilson

Supt. M. C. Warren of Pickaway, tournament manager, has all his arrangements made and has appointed Carol Van Zandt as official time-keeper and Wayne Wilson as official scorer—Van Zandt is a member of the Pickaway faculty and Wilson a Pickaway grad, and an efficient lad—It'll seem strange without New Holland represented on the scoring bench since Earl Hickie and Raymond French have held forth for quite a while—A county ruling prevented New Holland from again managing the tournament this year although the Bulldogs deserved the right—A new ruling barred any school from running it three years in a row, thus the honor? (Which includes a lot of hard work and responsibility) fell on Pickaway's shoulders ***

Team Comes First

There are a lot of outstanding athletes on the various teams this year, and all will be gunning for all tournament honors—Though all the boys would like to be selected on an all-star team they will be doing everything possible for the good of their respective teams—In this county of ours, team and school come first, then individual glory—It is easy to detect any boy who strives to help his own chances but forgets his school, and this type of cager is usually out in the cold when the selections are announced ***

Many Boys Do Well

Some of the boys who have gone great guns this year are: Campbell of Atlanta, Chuck Ater of New Holland, Hanson of Williamsport, Long of Monroe, Liff of Darby, Smoky Williams of Commercial Point, Diz Dean of Muhlenberg, Keller of Jackson, Young, Millar and Gregg of Ashville, Rhodes and Anderson of Pickaway, Minor of Saltcreek, M. Matz of Washington, Lynch of Walnut  The name of Ev Landman of New Holland is not in this list, but he usually waits until the tournament to turn on ***

CIRCLEVILLE WASTES TWO CAR LOADS MILK BOTTLES YEARLY

BUDDY HASSETT JOINS DODGERS

Stengel Sells Leslie to Giants, Buys Minor Star

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—(UP)—Making good their promise to bring a host of new faces into the lineup this year, the Brooklyn Dodgers today purchased another minor league star—First Baseman Johnny (Buddy) Hassett of the Newark Bears.

Hassett will replace husky Sam Leslie, who was sold to the New York Giants yesterday for a reported sum of $25,000.

The deal is advantageous to both Brooklyn and the Giants. It gives the Dodgers one of the most promising minor leaguers of 1936 and will enable Bill Terry, Giant player-manager, to have an understudy in case he decides to retire from the playing field this season.

The deal was accomplished only after several lengthy conferences in which the New York Yankees also figured. Terry, who said late last season that he would spend most of his time on the bench this year if he could find an experienced first baseman, originally had tried to secure Hassett. But the Yankees, who control Newark, objected on the grounds that it would bring a star they had developed too close to home.

Hassett, a graduate of Manhattan college, is 24 and bats and throws left-handed. In 1933 he was sent to Newark by the Yankees and immediately was farmed to Wheeling. In 1934 he played with Norfolk, stealing 56 bases and batting .360. Last year, with Columbus, he broke an ankle in June and didn't return to action until September. Even so, he hit .337 in 78 games.

YOUTH, VETERAN MEET

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 21.—(UP)—Patty Berg, schoolgirl sensation of Minneapolis, and the veteran Maureen Orcutt Crews, of Miami, emerged from a field of the aristocracy of women's golf to meet today in the 18-hole finals of the Palm Beach championship.

3 HORSES PICKED AS FAVORITES IN CALIFORNIA RACE

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 21.—(UP)—Horsemen today refused to be moved by hunches and tips on the winner of tomorrow's $100,000 added Santa Anita handicap as virtually all experts named Discovery, Top Row and Time Supply the "solid" horses.

"Stick with the champions," handicappers warned as they cast anxious eyes to the heavens which were prepared momentarily to send down more rain on the muddy racing strip at Santa Anita.

NINE MICHIGAN ATHLETES BARRED FROM CONTESTS

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 21.—(UP)—Nine University of Michigan athletes have been declared ineligible for competition because of their scholastic ratings.

Those who fell below the high standards of scholarship set by the university were announced last night after a meeting of the board of control of physical education. They were: Dave Hunn, veteran trackman; and four sophomores, Ray Stannard, half miler; Jim Kingsley, pole vaulter, and Howard Bratt and Leon Moore, high jumpers; Earl Meyers, veteran basketball player; Dick Berryman and Dick Griggs, wingmen on the hockey squad, and Robert Brumby, wrestler, were also declared ineligible.

LABOR TROUBLE FORCES CAGE GAME CANCELLED

AKRON, Feb. 21.—(UP)—Labor difficulties today had caused the University of Akron to postpone indefinitely its game scheduled for tonight with Mount Union college.

Picket lines prevent the teams from playing at the Goodyear gymnasium and university officials were unable to secure another floor.

Earlier in the week, trouble among the rubber workers also necessitated postponement of the Kent State contest.

It is expected both games will be re-scheduled when the Goodyear strike is settled.

BOLES "BOOING" PLEA WINS STUDENT ACTION

WOOSTER, Feb. 21.—(UP)—The latest in collegiate athletics from the standpoint of the spectator is "silent booing."

Following an appeal from L. C. Boles, athletic director, Wooster college students pledged not to make oral protestations of officials' decisions at basketball games here.

However, Roger Curfman, a senior student from Cleveland Heights, O., felt the undergraduates must express themselves. So Curfman spent a half-a-day in printing large placards with the word "BOO" in various languages.

He distributed them among the student body and now when a decision doesn't satisfy, the Wooster boosters have their "BOO" signs.

FIVE OF OHIO TOURNAMENT OFFICIALS ARE DISCLOSED

COLUMBUS, Feb. 21.—(UP)—Five of the six officials who will work the state high school basketball tournament here March 19-20-21 were announced today by H. R. Townsend, commissioner of the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

The officials were selected at a meeting of the State Board of Control Feb. 3, but their identity kept a secret to prevent schools bidding for their services during the final weeks of the season.

Officials selected were: Earl D. Gross, New Philadelphia; E. J. Bradley, Cleveland; F. G. Skibbie, Bowling Green; J. M. Hummon, Dayton and Nick Stoneham, Columbus.

The first four officials will work throughout the tournament and will receive $75. Stoneham will officiate only the first day and will be paid $30.

Brandon T. "Butch" Grover, Ohio University coach, was named with Stoneham as a one day official, but declined the offer.

An official to replace Grover will be chosen by M. A. Shepard, Kingston, a member of the state board representing southeastern Ohio.

Gross is the only official in the group who has ever worked a state tournament previously. He officiated in both the 1932 and the 1933 meets.

AT THE CLIFTONA

Eleanore Whitney's prescription for success in her chosen calling—speed dancing—is paradoxical, because the 18-year-old Cleveland girl says "you have to slow down to speed up."

Miss Whitney, featured in Paramount's "Millions in the Air," which comes to the Cliftona theatre Friday and Saturday, is being hailed as the fastest dancer in the world.

"I found out early in the game," she explained, "that the only way to become a speed dancer was to take my time at everything else."

ship filled with maddened lions and tigers and a dominant man more dangerous than dynamite, a lone girl fights through a terror ridden night. Morning brings only greater perils.

Charles Bickford, who battles as a wild man against the wild animals who seek his life and the lives of others, is the star.

These are just some of the highlights of Universal's "East of Java," the picture in which Bickford nearly lost his life when a lion attacked him. It features Elizabeth Young, Frank Albertson, Leslie Fenton, Clarence Muse and others, coming to this theatre Saturday.

AT THE CIRCLE

For the first time in his screen career, famous George Arliss impersonates a hobo! It occurs in "Mister Hobo," the new GB production showing Sunday and Monday at the Circle Theatre.

Shorn of the sartorial magnificence which has been connected with all his illustrious cinematic impersonations of the past, Arliss is now seen as a knight of the road. Instead of the man-of-the-world garments of the past, he dresses as any old tramp would.

It would be hard to recognize Arliss in "Spike" the vagabond with his pepper-and-salt hair, walrus moustache, unshaven chin, down-at-heel shoes tied with pieces of string, a weird assortment of rags in place of jacket and trousers.

C. A. C. MINSTREL PROVIDES ENTERTAINING EVENING

ANOTHER CROWD TO SEE SECOND NIGHT'S FROLIC

End Men and Interlocutor
Furnish Many Jokes; Feature Numbers Splendid

The Grand theatre was well-filled Thursday evening, and indications today were that another large crowd would attend the second evening's performance on Minstrel Flashes, staged by the Circleville Athletic Club.

The presentation provided an interesting and entertaining evening. Many of the jokes "pulled" by Ed C. Ebert and his premiere end men, Johnny Heiskell, Byron Eby, Robert Elkins, Frank Marion, Joe Lynch, and Robert Maloney, brought loud and long laughter from the audience.

Mr. Ebert as interlocutor did a good job.

With last night's performance history and the singing bellhops and others in the show more confident of their lines and music, tonight's should be even better than Thursday's show.

Miss Iona Miller is the accompanist while a representative of the John B. Rogers Co. is directing the show. An orchestra also is assisting.

Show in Ball Room

The first part of the show was woven about a hotel ball room. Mr. Ebert came on the stage to announce that entertainment for the evening had disappointed the hotel management, but that bellhops and others about the hotel would put on the show.

Soloists included: Mrs. George Himrod, Memory Lane; John Heiskell, Rasputin; Byron Eby, I'll Never Again; Joe Lynch, Lulu's Back in Town; Earl Millions, Chasing Shadows; Eugene Smith, That's What You Think; Frank Marion, The Girl at the Ironing Board; Robert Elkins, Blue Roses, and W. Joe Burns, Old Black Joe, considered by many as one of the best presentations of the minstrel. DeWitt Bach, tenor, sang two solos both of which went over well with the crowd.

At the conclusion of the hotel scene and a short intermission, several specialty acts, all of which received much applause, were presented.

Hilaire Haecker was handsomely dressed and with his accordion provided much entertainment. Marvene Wallace did a splendid Spanish dance, and Jimmy Mowery's tap dance was well-done. Carl Palm and his musical saw saw a rousing hand.

The Poison Ivy ballet featuring some well-known business and professional men was a scream. A Bit of Life, a long-distance telephone skit, It's How You Say It, and the Wedding Day in which Frank Lynch and Sam Chambers took the "for better or worse" oath brought their share of applause. The synco-pating sinners with Miss Pauline Hall as soloist provided Flash No. 9.

Some good seats are still available for tonight's show which starts at 8:15. All seats are 40 cents to adults and 25 cents to children. The gallery price is 15 cents.

Oddities in Nation's News

TALK NOT CHEAP

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Feb. 21—(UP)—Talk, contrary to the maxim, isn't cheap. Charles Witzel said in his sleep: "Yes, you are my sweetheart; I keep your picture over my heart." Mrs. Witzel looked in the articles of clothing that covered his heart and found the picture of his stenographer. A judge ordered Witzel to begin paying $50 a week alimony today.

POLICE WAKEN DOG

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 21—(UP)—Maceluff, a watchdog in the home of Mrs. George P. Mudge, slept soundly in front of the fireplace as burglars stole a clock from the mantle. He awoke with a start when police arrived to obtain a report of the theft.

"SIN BOX" STARTED

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 21—(UP)—Three women cashiers of a downtown hotel have established a "sin box" to curb their swearing. For every cuss word they contribute a penny to the box. The girls are permitted to say "for goodness, gracious sakes," or "oh, my goodness," but "Hell" and "Damn" and "Goddamn" are taboo.

$100 FOR $1

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Feb. 21—(UP)—Spirited bidding for the silver dollar Walter Johnson will attempt to hurl across the Rappahannock river tomorrow sent the price up to $100 today. Just what will happen if the dollar falls into the river was not decided.

MORRIS, Ill., Feb. 21—(UP)—Traffic across a stream near here will be blocked for three months because three farmer boys chopped down a tree which crashed down on a 70 foot steel bridge, pushing the bridge off the piers to the ice 12 feet below.

BRUNO PLEADS TO QUESTION CONDON

CONDEMNED MAN

Hoffman, Attorneys Also Act

QUESTIONS A WAITING

Fisher Admits Outlook for Lindbergh Kidnapers Becoming Dark

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 21.—
(UP)—Bruno Richard Haupt-mann's spiritual advisor today appealed to Lutheran clergymen throughout the country to intercede in an effort to save the Linbergh baby slayer from the electric chair.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 21.—
(UP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann begged from his death house cell today for a chance to cross examine Dr. John F. (Jafie) Condon.

Gov. Harold G. Hoffman and Hauptmann's attorneys moved together to induce Condon to return from Panama, where he is resting after a vaudeville tour.

At the same time that Hauptmann told Prison Warden Mark O.
Kimberling of his desire to interview Condon, Attorney C. Lloyd Fisher revealed that he had written the Bronx educator, asking him to return immediately to explain alleged discrepancies between his testimony at Haupt-mann's trial and statements he has made since.

Convinced of Identity

Condon was the "go-between"
who established contact with the Lindbergh baby kidnaper through newspaper advertisements in which he signed himself "Jafie."
He paid $50,000 ransom to a man he identified as Hauptmann. At Hauptmann's trial he said he was convinced Hauptmann committed the kidnapping without accomplices.

"Now we have a news reel film of Condon which shows that he said Hauptmann must have had accomplices," Fisher said.

Governor Hoffman has formulated four specific questions that he wants "Jafie" to answer. He contemplated addressing a letter to Condon himself if Fisher's plea to him to return is ineffective. The points he thinks Condon should clarify are:

1. Why did Condon say that more than one person was involved in the kidnapping, then testify that Hauptmann was alone in the crime?

2. How does he account for the fact that, as he has said, someone volving the question of title on

HEIFER WEIGHING 1,680
POUNDS SOLD TO DAVIES

This story isn't a lot of bull, but a lot of heifer in any man's country.

A Holstein heifer weighing 1,680 pounds, believed to be the largest ever raised in this section of Ohio, was sold at the local livestock barn this week.

The sale price was $6.30 a hundred and netted the raiser,
Roscoe Stout of Orient, $105.84.
The David Davies Co., Columbus, was the purchaser.

A number of farmers reported a 1,400 pound heifer was "big" but this one was the largest they had ever viewed.
"She looked like she was on stilts," one said.

PWA FUND GONE,

LITTLE HOPE EXISTING

Boulay Reports All Money Allocated; Others in District to Fail

Three major Circleville and Pickaway-co projects, totalling $188,550, are doomed to failure unless the Public Works administration obtains a new appropriation.

They are:
Circleville school, $82,000.
Darby-twp school, $55,000.
Pickaway-co court house, $51,- 500.

State PWA Director L. A. Boulay attended a conference in Washington, D. C. this week and reported that Ohio still had 96 projects pending with a total cost of $25,872,986.

"Unless," he said, "further funds are made available none of these allotted projects may ever reach realization because all appropriations allotted to PWA have been exhausted."

In this list are the three Pick-away-co projects.
To date, Mr. Boulay reported, Ohio has been allotted loans and grants totalling $16,311,425, making possible construction of 239 projects with an estimated total cost of $30,492,047.

Other projects in this district which appear lost as a result of the money being exhausted are:
Amanda school, $39,742; Washington C. H. school, $100,000; Rossco, Centralia school, $56,830, and Huntington - twp school $36,662;
Madison-co, Jefferson school, $80,-

The local school project would make an addition to the high school and Corwin-st. buildings.
The voters of Circleville have already approved a $50,000 bond issue for the school, as have the voters of Darby-twp.

fourth negro who was suspected of having committed the attack.
The three negroes were held as possible accomplices.

The mother and daughter were

Little Change in Midwest
Temperature is Predicted

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—(UP)—Forecasts of "no decided change in temperature" over the week-end cheered the midwest today after a day of comparatively mild weather.

The month-long sub-zero wave which marooned scores of villages in the blizzard belt appeared definitely broken.

A temporary telephone line was opened to the snowbound village of Two Creeks, in northern Wisconsin, revealing that residents had enough food to last for two or three more days. Highway workers believe a road will be opened by that time.

The menace of floods became increasingly serious. Twelve persons, marooned in their homes at Spottsville, Ky., by flood waters of the Green River, were rescued by the cutter Kankakee, which smashed its way through heavy ice.

Although suffering from ex-posure, the two women, five children and five men were not in serious condition. Three of the men had spent the night on open ground when water inundated their homes.

The coast guard cutter Escanaba continued efforts to free ships trapped in Lake Michigan ice after breaking through to two freight ferries 20 miles off Ludington, Mich.

mistreatment, entered the courtroom at 9:45 a. m. She was accompanied by her attorney, W.
H. Cooper, and her mother, Mrs.
Zona Willis.

The court immediately took up the task of selecting a jury.

WINTER BOOSTS
NATION ILLNESS

Influenza, Pneumonia, Mumps
Causing Apprehension

Copyright 1936 By United Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(UP)— Disease epidemics attributable to one of the most severe winters of the century caused stringent quarantines affecting communities throughout the country today.

The federal public health service announced that spinal meningitis reached its highest prevalence in five years yesterday as two Virginia towns and a surrounding mine country ordered rigid quar-antines against it.

Influenza, pneumonia and mumps forced universities and schools in Mississippi, Texas and Ohio to close.

Danger spots today were:
Big Stone Gap, Va., and Appalachia, Va.—schools, theaters, churches closed to halt meningitis epidemic. Three reported dead.

MAYOR DEFENDS
COST OF RELIEF
CITING DEMANDS

Graham Declares Situation
This Winter Has Been Unusual in City

MANY FAMILIES NEEDY

Official Declares Council's Appropriation for Aid too Small

"We will carry out instructions of councilmen but I want people to realize we have been faced with an unusual situation this winter."
Mayor W. J. Graham said today morning in reply to an inquiry council for a special meeting the finance committee with Director Charles Coughlin to relieve matters.

"Councilmen need more years as their basis for appropriating $100 for relief first three months of 1936," Graham said. "We have such a condition in winter year. There are more hungry people and less work than in any previous year."

Doing Forward Work
"We are working to the county as far as possible for us to do so. There are many cases, and it is impossible to deny many people relief. We have can't turn down. People suffered during this winter, and you know it is the worst years."

"We want to work for the satisfaction of council and the community and if council wants us to say 'no' we will do so. When they arrange the meeting I'll attend it."

"If you think this problem hasn't been serious, what would you think of furnishing some coal to prevent them from being arrested for trespassing on road property looking for it. There is one of the things we have faced," he declared.

"I forgot about the council meeting or I would have been there."

Time Not Yet Set
Councilman Ben Gordon, chairman of the finance committee, said no definite time has yet been set for the meeting but he hoped the meeting could be arranged "sometime Saturday."

The meeting was called after a report was given the city date that the city's appropriation for relief during the first three months had been exceeded "between $150 and $200," without the authorizing of council.

MCMULLEN, ARMY IS GUILTY OF MISCONDUCT

Martial Reduces Rank of Man Accepting Rail
Tickets, Assesses Fine

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(UP)—

A military court martial found Joseph I. McMullen, Army aide, guilty of "dishonorable conduct" last night in accepting gifts of two railroad tickets. McMullen was acquitted on two charges involving alleged bribery. He was sentenced to a reduction in rank, reprimand and a fine of $3,600.

The court found the officer guilty of accepting two railroad tickets as gratuities from Joseph Silverman Jr., a dealer in surplus goods, while Silverman was negotiating contracts with the Army.

Gen. Upton Blinn, chief of military artillery and president of the court, announced the verdict after four days trial at Walter Reed hospital. Prominent politicians and testified for McMullen.

Foot of His Grade
The veteran officer received the verdict calmly. He will be reduced in rank to the foot of his grade in the Army and reprimanded by either the secretary of war or the president.

The fine will be deducted at the rate of $150 a month for the remaining two years of his active service in the Army. He is now 62 years old and must retire at the age of 64.

Attorneys for McMullen conceded he accepted two round trip tickets from Silverman, but contended they were part payment on an automobile and not gifts.

The court, composed of three senior generals and seven colonels, found McMullen acted dishonorably and to the discredit of the military service by accepting the tickets in January, 1934.

Freedom Others

He was acquitted of charges of giving legal advice to the secretary of war favorable to Silverman's interests and on charges of violating the penal statutes by accepting the tickets.

sphere around the strike that has tied up production and affected close to 15,000 workers.

Six Judges Seated

A six-judge court heard arguments of both sides on the injunction request and a ruling was believed imminent. The company contended the strikers had picketed the plant unlawfully and had interfered with the company's production and business. Mediation efforts have been unsuccessful.

Ohio national guard observers watched the Goodyear situation closely.

The "sit down" strike at the closed Columbia Chemical Co. plant in Barberton, near Akron, continued today. Strikers have been sitting idly by their machines for more than 45 hours rather than establish a picket line in the cold.

The company indicated its willingness to let the men remain inside the plant as long as they do no damage. A committee of 10 appointed by the men brings them food and tobacco. The dispute started over a four-cent wage increase proposal.

24 Non-Union Workers

Mediation of a dispute between union and non-union women employees of the Libbey-Owens-Ford glass factory at Toledo began today with arrival of Glen W. McCabe, Columbus, president of the Federation of Flat Glass Workers of America. The trouble started in the assembly department when 24 women who are union workers refused to work with two non-union workers.

The 24 were dismissed and 200 workers in other departments refused to work in sympathy.

Negotiations between Akron milk companies and union milk drivers to settle a wage dispute were postponed until Monday night.

Chet Smead, business agent of the union, reported the dealers had rejected an offer to arbitrate. Smead said the union had dropped its closed shop request and had lowered its wage increase demands.

Cleveland union truck drivers have voted to strike on March 1 if employers have not accepted a request for a 10 cents an hour wage increase by that time.

offered him $250,000 to change his trial testimony. Hauptmann was in jail when the offer allegedly was made.

3. Who was the man with Italian accent who broke into a telephone conversation between Hauptmann and Condon about ransom?

4. Who was a woman who entered a charity bazaar to make an appointment to meet Condon, and why did he not keep it?

Warden Powerless

Hauptmann, undoubtedly brood-

ing in his cell over the same points that interested Hoffman and Fisher, made his request to see Condon in another letter to Warden Kimberling. Kimberling pointed out that he was powerless, but indicated he had transmitted the letter's import to the governor. Fisher revealed that he believes Condon holds one of Hauptmann's last hope to escape the electric chair in the week of March 30.

"The outlook is dark," he admitted.

Hoffman, convinced that Hauptmann at least had accomplices who should be found before he is executed, has been unable to obtain evidence enough to win clemency from the state pardons court and has said he will not grant another reprieve.

STATE'S LIQUOR PLAN IS REVISED TO AID ECONOMY

Humphrey Announces Offices to Be Set Up in All 11 Districts

COLUMBUS, Feb. 21.—(UP)—Liquor Enforcement Chief Al Humphrey today announced plans for revision of enforcement operations in the state.

According to the new plans there will be 11 enforcement districts in the state with headquarters established at Toledo, Lima, Dayton, Cincinnati, Sandusky, Columbus, Portsmouth, Cleveland, Zanesville, Canton and Youngstown.

Previously, enforced units in many of the districts have been operated from headquarters in hotel rooms. Instead regular officers will be established in the districts.

Humphrey believes that by establishing regular headquarters, that economy will be effected.

May Make Complaints

"This will enable citizens to become familiar with a central headquarters where complaints may be registered," Humphrey said.

Involved in the plan to reorganize the state districts are several changes. Headquarters of the ninth district will be moved from Marietta to Zanesville. Meigs-co will be taken from the Zanesville district and added to the Portsmouth district. Fayette-co will be taken from the Portsmouth district and placed in the Columbus district, Humphrey said.

Darke, Miami, Champaign Clark counties, formerly in the Lima district, together with Preble, Montgomery and Greene from the Cincinnati district will be made into a new district with headquarters at Dayton.

BRUNO'S SISTER RAPS ATTORNEY

Mrs. Gloeckner Says Leibowitz Betrayed Hauptmann

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 21.—(BP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's sister today denounced Samuel Leibowitz, New York criminal attorney, for withdrawing from her brother's defense and accused him of "betraying" the condemned man.

The sister, Mrs. Emma Gloeckner, in a statement issued by her Attorney, Vincent A. Margo, said that Leibowitz had "almost criminally violated the sacred relation between a lawyer and client."

Mrs. Gloeckner and Margo both were bitter over reported statements by Leibowitz that he believed Hauptmann guilty.

"This man, who has saved 112 persons from the electric chair, not only withdrew from the case, but issued a statement which committed an almost irreparable injury upon his client."

"When a lawyer confers with a client and then violates the confidence of that client by issuing a public statement saying he believes his client is guilty, he commits the most vicious betrayal within the power of an attorney."

The statement deplored the "incompetence of counsel" retained for Hauptmann and said that the condemned man was suffering through failure of his attorneys "to interpret the evidence already offered."

"Now, in addition to incompetence, he suffers from the abuse of the most sacred privilege a lawyer has with his client."

Lutherans Honor Famed Men—and Own Members

Lutheran Program in Charge of J. D. Hummel; Lincoln and Washington Eulogized in Interesting Evening

Trinity Lutheran brotherhood held Thursday evening in the parish house was given over to the celebration of the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln, as well as the birthdays of all members whose natal days fall in February. The two members present having birthdays in the month were: George W. Valentine and Harry Bartholomew.

The business meeting was short, after which a half hour social session was held, during which time E. Sensenbrenner and committee served country style smoked sausage sandwiches and coffee to the delight of all. E. C. Ebert was regular chairman of this committee, but owing to his being in the hospital in the C. A. C. minstreels, Mr. Sensenbrenner substituted for him.

The program, in charge of J. D. Hummel, opened by the entire Brotherhood singing "America," after which Charles Walters read the poem, "The American Flag," by Joseph Rodman Drake.

J. D. Hummel followed by reading the poem, "The American Eagle," which so strikingly depicts the emblem of American liberty.

"The Memory of Our Fathers," a beautiful prose selection by Lynan Becker, was impressively read by Rev. G. L. Troutman, after which the entire Brotherhood inspiring sang the National anthem: "The Star Spangled Banner."

Mr. Hummel then conducted a short history lesson on George Washington. H. H. Gruce gave General Henry Lee's "Eulogy on Washington," this being followed by the reading of Sir Wm. Jones' poem "What Constitutes a State."

Then another history period: the questions pertaining to "The Great Emancipator," Abraham Lincoln.

George G. Griffith was next introduced and read the "Boyhood of Lincoln," this being followed by the reading to Lincoln's Gettysburg Address by Hummel.

The program was brought to a fitting close by the Brotherhood singing the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The record on the three months attendance contest, with J. D. Hummel on charge of list of members whose surnames begin with letters "A" to "H" inclusive and Rev. G. L. Troutman as captain of those from "G" to "Z," last evening disclosed a close race, with Hummel's class only one point in the lead.

The next regular session will be

OPEN LETTERS

TO PICKAWAY COUNTIANS

CITIZENS: Another election day will ar-rise in a few months, and I believe it is time for citizens of this city and county to endeavor to elect a member of the Ohio senate who will truly represent Pick-away-co. It is unfortunate that Pickaway should be combined with Franklin-co in a senatorial district, but that fact should be taken as a challenge to each voter to do his best to elect a person who will "do right" by this county. Years ago when Pickaway was joined with Franklin-co in a senatorial district local residents should have protested enough to have caused some other arrangement. As matters now stand Pick-away is a "forgotten" county in the Ohio senate. Both members of the upper house are Columbus residents. I urge every Pick-away-co man and woman to support a local candidate (though none have yet announced candidacies) for the Ohio senate.

CIRCUITEER

TO ATHLETIC CLUB

MINSTRELS: Your performance last night was entertaining, and nearly all who attended the show were pleased with it. Your minstrel is another step toward realization of the hopes of your leaders that the club can be rejuvenated so it will again attain the success and prosperity it once enjoyed. If there are any persons who did not see the minstrel last night they have another chance this evening to enjoy a good show, filled with laughs, and while having a pleasant evening will be helping a good cause.

CIRCUITEER

TO SCHOOL TEACHERS

FRIENDS: Did it ever occur to you some of your home assignments are unreasonably large? Some of your pupils are justified in making complaints about the amount of homework they receive. Recently a parent, as an experiment, worked an arithmetic assignment as quickly as possible and the time required was exactly an hour and a half. It is reasonable to say the assignment would have required more than two hours for the student to complete.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

Few predictions are safer than the United States supreme court's power to nullify acts of congress will not be seriously attacked at the current session of the national legislature. That is especially true since the favorable TVA decision.
 The necessity for limiting the tribu-nal's authority, as exercised, will be strongly emphasized—oratorically.
 Plans to limit it will continue to pend—in committee rooms.
 But no definite action will be attempted.
 Nothing could be accomplished
 anyway; there isn't time enough between now and even the remotest possible date of congressional adjournment. However, the question very easily could be made a campaign issue. And the New Dealers are afraid of it as a campaign issue.

NOT CERTAIN OF ISSUE

Maybe the anti-New Dealers are afraid of it, too, but they have no choice in the matter.
 The supreme court's power is satisfactory to them "as is." Unless it is annulled they have no occasion to defend it. If it is annulled, they will have to defend it whether or no.
 Thus the initiative lies with the New Dealers.
 If they were sure of the court's unpopularity with the rank and file of the voters, a majority of them undoubtedly would favor a policy of "going to the mat" as speedily as possible, but they are not that certain. They suspect that the issue might be a bad one,

 from their own standpoint.

THEY ARE STRONGLY "PRO"

Anti-New Dealers naturally are solidly pro-supreme court.

Not only are they supporters of the high tribunal on general principles. The "nine old men" also have thrown several damaging "wrenches" into the New Deal machinery, winning the political gratitude of the "antis."

On the opposite hand, pro-New Dealers by no means are solidly anti-supreme court.

Illustratively, Senators George
 W. Norris of Nebraska and William C. McAdoo of California both are New Dealers.

Yet Senator Norris is a supreme court modificationist. Senator Mc-Adoo is not.

The administration cannot afford a split of this sort. It would rather submerge the supreme court issue for the present.

"MODERATELY"

EDUCATIONAL

The attitude of Senator Joseph
 T. Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader in the upper congressional chamber, in recent debate, was significant.
 The senator had plenty of fault

When home assignments are given in a number of studies you can appreciate how much work you are placing on pupils. I also wondered how much boosting is being made for the addition to the high school building?

CIRCUITEER

TO BOARD OF ELECTIONS

FRIENDS: Your action in dividing two city voting precincts and leaving Pick-away and Saltcreek-twps as single precincts was wise. The two city districts were entirely too large, were unhandy for many voters, delayed election returns and brought many complaints. It looked foolish to divide the two townships when the division would have added more expense, and voters would travel the same distance to cast their ballots. Your action won the approval of a large majority of the residents.

CIRCUITEER

TO TELEPHONE EMPLOYEES

CITIZENS: Few realize the major part you have played in protecting citizens during the severe winter weather. When the fire alarm system went out of commission this week the entire northend depended on your service. You aided highway workers in checking snowdrifts for the protection of autoists, kept marooned motorists in touch with their families, maintained service in sections isolated by snow-banks and other acts too numerous to mention. You are also co-operating with city and county officials and the American Legion Disaster corps, a fine movement. You deserve the thanks of the community.

CIRCUITEER

TO SCHOOL AUTHORITIES

OFFICIALS: Your plans for a Parents' night on April 17 are excellent. Parents should know what their sons and daughters are accomplishing in school, and such a program as you are preparing is one way of showing them. Taxpayers and citizens, who do not have children in school, also are interested in knowing what progress their school is making. The exhibits, displays and other interesting features, including an assembly program, planned for this night should be enlightening. These events have been held in our school before, and have always been welcomed by parents and citizens of the community.

CIRCUITEER

TO AUTO DEALERS

MERCHANTS: Announcement this week that new car sales in January passed the 1929 mark should be pleasing to you, and should provide you with a new note of confidence. When auto sales boom it means that many other industries are being greatly benefitted because steel, rubber and other businesses depend, to a large extent, on the success of the automobile dealers to dispose of their product.

READ THIS FIRST:

Thora Dahl, who has left her home in Minnesota and journeyed east, obtains a position as housekeeper for an eccentric gentleman named Selwyn Marsh who lives in suburban New York. Thora meets Sherman Gordon, a friend of Marsh and his daughter, Wilma, who is away. Marsh is writing a history book and Thora helps type his notes for him. Wilma Marsh arrives and displays much curiosity over the attractive housekeeper. Sherman Gordon comes for dinner. Thora realizes that Wilma seems to resent her presence in the Marsh home.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 18

THORA CAME downstairs to check over Katie's daily list of needs. She had almost reached the lower landing when the front door opened.

A woman entered, pausing in apparent surprise when she saw the housekeeper. The two of them regarded each other for a moment in silence.

Thora saw a modish figure in a close-fitting white dress, white hose and pumps. Gleaming bronze hair set in crisp waves. Eyes veiled behind thick lashes, brows shaped in slender arches. A small mouth, thin-lipped.

The lips moved, to suggest in a patronizing drawl:

"Good morning. You are... Mrs. Davis, I suppose."

"No," Thora answered quietly. "I am not." What she was thinking was, "But you are Mrs. Steele." She remained standing where she was. And waited.

"I don't quite understand," the newcomer said, lifting her brows. "I arranged with an agency to send a woman here this morning to see about taking a position as Mr. Marsh's housekeeper. I supposed... Her voice lost its drawl and exhibited something of an edge. "Will you be good enough to find Mrs. Myron. Tell her that I wish to speak to her here."

"I am sorry. Mrs. Myron has been gone for over a week now."

"What?" Thora asked. "Then who are you, may I ask?"

"I am Mr. Marsh's housekeeper."

"Before" Dorothy Steele could re- cover herself, there came a rap at the door. Thora walked quickly past the visitor and opened it.

On the veranda stood a tall woman, rearing inquiringly through large horn-rimmed spectacles.

"Good morning, Miss," was her crisp greeting to Thora. "I'm Mrs. Davis. I came out here to see the housekeeper, providing I like the place."

Mrs. Steele no longer heard this newcomer announce herself than she stepped forward, smiling graciously. "Please come in, Mrs. Davis," she invited, ignoring Thora completely.

"I will let you talk with Mr. Marsh, although your references were so unusual I feel it is scarcely necessary. I think we will find him in his library. If you will, come with me."

"Excuse me," Thora interrupted quietly. "I'm sorry, but Mr. Marsh asked me to explain to Mrs. Davis when she came."

"This way, if you please," Mrs. Steele broke in icily.

"Say!" Mrs. Davis attempted on her own behalf. "Would you mind telling me just who's boss here?"

Thora's blue eyes narrowed a trifle, but her voice did not betray the slightest emotion. She explained deliberately:

"Mr. Marsh requested me to tell you that there has been a slight mis- take. He is sorry that you were obligated to make the trip out here and hopes that you will accept this."

Mrs. Davis reached for the small envelope Thora took from the neck

"Then who are you, may I ask?"

of her dress while speaking. She opened it. A grim smile spread over her angular features when she saw the denomination of the bill. "All right, Miss. I don't think I'd want the job, anyway. Thanks and good morning!"

Mrs. Steele drew her slight figure to its full height. Her gray eyes gleamed coldly through their heavy lashes.

"Will you be good enough to tell me if Mr. Marsh is in the library?"

"I am quite sure he is, Mrs. Steele," Selwyn, however, settled the question by appearing at the end of the hall. "Hello, Dorothy," was his casual greeting. "Glad to see you back."

Thora promptly retraced her steps. Steadily, but without undue haste, she ascended the stairs. At the moment, she had no desire to be presented to Mrs. Steele. On the second landing, she paused instinctively as the visitor's clear tones floated up from below.

"Well, Selwyn, you didn't lose much time in finding a new house- keeper, did you? Her voice became suddenly sweet. "I really must compliment you on your taste. Who is she?"

Thora waited to hear no more. Meanwhile, Selwyn was ushering Mrs. Steele into the library where she helped herself to a chair and sat erect, as she waited for Selwyn to answer her last question.

The master of Fair Acres ran his fingers through his hair, fumbled his pipe from the pocket of his house coat, filled it and lit it with care. After it was going to his satisfaction, he remarked tersely:

"Very good of you to look after Wilma up in the city. She tells me the two of you had quite a time... going about."

"What is your housekeeper's name, Selwyn?"

"Oh? Oh... Miss Dahl, you mean."

"She appears rather young for such a position."

"I don't know. She seems to be getting along all right. Katie and the girls like her."

"She is very nice-looking. Too nice-looking." The last, Mrs. Steele said to herself. She forced herself to smile. "I hope that she is related. But, of course, you made sure of that."

"I... Oh, yes. Quite."

"I'm sorry that you didn't let Wilma know you had hired someone. I found such an excellent woman for you yesterday. Really, her refer- ences were unusual. I was so sure she would suit that I asked the agency to send her out here today. She came a few minutes ago, but this Miss..."

"Yes," I told Miss Dahl to send her along."

"She did. I only wanted to help..." Mrs. Steele's tone was suddenly plaintive.

"Sure. Thanks," Marsh stared at her through a cloud of smoke. His neighbor was silent for a moment, as if uncertain how to broach a topic that evidently was in her mind.

"Selwyn."

"There is something that I feel I should speak about. It's... Wilma. She is a woman now."

"What I mean is... she should be taking Elizabeth's place here. Of course it was different while you had Mrs. Myron. She was... that is, she tried to be a mother to Wilma. It was all very well for her to be one of the family. But, now, she's gone."

"As you say, she's gone. I hope she's having a good rest. I am."

Mrs. Steele chose to ignore that suggestion. She went on, hastily: "I think, Selwyn, that it isn't quite fair to Wilma... now that she is home to stay... to have a young woman acting as head of the house. You can see that."

"Has Wilma been kicking?" Marsh frowned darkly. "I didn't know she was up yet."

"Oh, no! Not Wilma and I have not discussed it at all. But I know that it is going to hurt her to see this woman... She eats her meals with you, I dare say."

"Well?"

"That's what I mean," Mrs. Steele declared pointedly. "It is Wilma's right, and her duty, to preside at your table now. Let this woman help her by looking after the details of the house. But don't make her one of the family."

AN AMAZING JUMP

PLAYERS often do what appears surprising to others, but nearly be- cause of difference in viewpoints. The other evening my partner surprised me with a call, which from his side of the table appeared the correct thing, but which from my side of the table seemed an amazing jump on the value he held. The deal is shown below. He sat North.

Bidding went: South, 1-No Trump; North, 6-No Trump; South, 6 nearly caused me to bid 7-No Trump; as it distinctly meant: "Partner, go an- other trick, if you hold a full prob- able trick strength greater than needed for a sound opening bid."

Using the 6-4-3-2-1 honor count, which is slightly the best of all, I held a 24-point count, or a full 4 points more than required for a sound opening bid. My partner bid 6, and, leaving 16 points held adversely. That is too small declaring strength to fully justify small slam expectations. Had I bid the unjustified grand slam I would have fulfilled my contract, as all op- posing honors were held almost as I would have arranged them, had I the choice.

Mr. Kurt Wandel made an opening lead of 6 of spades. An opening lead of a low spade would have yielded the same results. Dummy's 10 won. A low heart was won with my Q, and I proceeded to pick up 3 more diamond tricks, by leading the 10 toward dummy's Ace. East let go two hearts and a diamond.

So many hearts had been let go that it seemed safe to lead dummy's K. Then came the 2 of clubs. My J held the trick on a finesse. The Ace of clubs won the eighth trick.

When my 6 of clubs was led West showed out, by letting go his 2 of diamonds. Dummy's K won, but East held the top club, and another suit had to be opened.

Dummy's Q of diamonds was led. East's K of diamonds covered and I had to win with the Ace. That was the tenth straight trick which I had run off, thanks to the unusually fa- vorable way adversely held honors lay.

As I was not coming back to my hand after I led another diamond, I took the Ace of hearts for our eleventh trick, discarding thereon dummy's losing club. Dummy was down to the J-9 of diamonds. West held two diamonds. East held one club and one diamond. Between East and West I knew that the held the diamonds were held, but who held the 10 I did not know. Had I bid 7-No Trumps I would have played West for the missing 10, and finessed the dummy's 9. Not needing both di- amond tricks to fulfill the small slam contract I would have been fool- hardy to risk losing to a diamond and a club in East's hand, so I put up dummy's J for a safe small slam.

Large Group Enjoys D. U. V. Patriotic Tea

150 Gather for Annual Affair Held in Memorial Hall

Over one hundred and fifty persons gathered at the Memorial hall Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock for the Patriotic tea sponsored by the Catherine Wolfley Hedges tent Daughters of the Union Veterans.

This is always one of the most enjoyable events of the year for the local tent. Patriotic decorations made the Post room attractive and several of the members who were in charge and who took part on the program were appropriately dressed in colonial costumes and styles of Lincoln's time.

Mrs. Cora Coffland and Mrs. James Carpenter were dressed as Lincoln and Washington, respectively. They assisted the committee in extending hospitalities.

Mrs. A. M. Newton, president of the tent, extended greetings and then presented Mrs. E. L. Tolbert, general chairman of the affair, who introduced the various numbers on the program.

Mrs. Tolbert first told of the purpose of the organization and the achievements of the local tent during its eight years of existence.

An impressive patriotic exercise was conducted by the patriotic instructor and color bearers. Group singing of America was followed by the flag salute, the flag being presented by Mrs. Frank Rader, patriotic instructor, Mrs. Frank Webbe, Mrs. Irene Jenkins, Mrs. L. E. Miller, and Mrs. George Hammel, color bearers. Mrs. Nellie Boyle was the piano accompanist.

The Courtship and Marriage of George Washington was interestingly told by Mrs. Helen Black Anderson after which Mrs. John Bragg entertained with two vocal solos, playing her own accompaniment on the accordion.

Mrs. James P. Moffitt and Mrs. Melvin Yates sang "My Old Kentucky Home," and Mrs. Moffitt's solo was "Sweet Song of Long Ago" by Ernest Charles. Miss Abbe M. Clarke accompanied them at the piano.

A love story of Lincoln's time depicting the hatred which existed between the North and the South was told in a pleasing manner by Mrs. James Trimmer.

Red, white and blue were predominant in the refreshments served from a table lighted with red, white and blue candles and centered with red carnations and white bunnies. Each guest was given a small silk flag as a favor.

Mrs. E. S. Neuding and Miss Laura Mader poured tea and were assisted by Mrs. Eleanor Bissell and Mrs. E. L. Price.

Receiving the guests at the door were Mrs. Frank Rader, Mrs. Frank Webbe, and Miss Emma Mader.

Young Actor in Peter Pan; First Boy to Play Fine Role

Freddie Bartholomew on Radio Theatre Hour Monday Evening; Ripley to Describe Out-of-Way Marriages

Freddie Bartholomew will play "Peter Pan" in the Radio Theatre on Monday and the theatre's most famous boy-character will be played by a boy for the first time. All previous interpreters of the role have been women, and in their ranks are some of the best known actresses of the modern theatre.

So great are the acting demands made on the player who impersonates the lad of Sir James M. Barrie's imagination that the "Peter Pan" has never before been attempted by a child. The role has always been assigned to an actress of slight figure and great talent who could successfully create the illusion of a child.

As Peter Pan he joins a company of some of the theatre's most illustrious names, around whom centers much of the glamour of the twentieth century stage. Now that a child-actor of Freddie Bartholomew's ability is available, producers of the Radio Theatre determined to take the historic step. The play will be broadcast over a WABC-CBS network at 9 p.m.

Freddie Bartholomew came over to this country from England to play the part of David Copperfield in the picture based on Dickens' novel. His success was so immediate that he has remained in Hollywood ever since. He has been heard over the radio on one of two occasions but never before in a complete play.

Ways to be Married

A hundred and one ways to get married, more or less, will be described by Bob Ripley for "Believe It or Not" fans in his broadcast Sunday. Taking his listeners on a round-the-world tour Bob will reveal some of the bizarre and unusual customs surrounding the business of getting married in out of the way places.

A cast of actors will reenact many of these in a series of brief dramatic flashes which will carry this "marriage cruise" all around the globe. Harriet Hillard and Ozzie Nelson, themselves comparative newbies, will be drawn into the dramatizations by Ripley. In addition to their regular job of providing music for the broadcast, Ozzie and the band have several new arrangements of popular tunes for the show and Harriet and Ozzie will be heard in solos and duets, during the broadcast over a WJZ-NBC net work at 7:30 p. m.

Eddy on Air Sunday

Nelson Eddy, baritone star of four musical worlds—opera, radio, movies and concert hall—is to be the guest soloist with the 70-piece Symphony Orchestra under Bruno Riggs in the Concerts program of Sunday, February 23. The nation-wide hook-up of 66 stations of the NBC-WBAF network will broadcast the program between 10 and 11 p. m.

ANNUAL COUNTY CAGE TOURNAMENT BEGINS AT 7 P. M.

WASHINGTON-TWP MEETS JACKSON IN FIRST GAME

School Men Consider Competition Wide Open; Ashville Dominant in Season

Considered as one of the outstanding competitions in recent years, the annual Pickaway-county basketball tournament will start at 7 o'clock this evening in the Athletic Club gymnasium with four games on the schedule.

Jackson-twp plays Washington-twp at 7 o'clock; Monroe-twp and Ashville are hooked at 8; Perry-twp and Williamsport tangle at 9, the first girls' game. Walnut against Darby-twp, starts at 10.

The Saturday afternoon session starts at 1 o'clock with four more games planned. The 1 p. m. contest finds New Holland and Darby pitted.

Ashville Dominant

The tournament should be outstanding since no team, with the possible exception of Ashville, has dominated the year's play. Al Kauber's Harrison-twp team went through the season unbeaten, but met some stiff opposition in the later weeks; especially from Monroe which team it faces tonight in its initial tournament test.

New Holland has played good ball despite its defeat by Ashville. Four teams, however, Pickaway, Darby, Walnut, and Atlanta, put the pressure on Shadel Saunders team forcing the quintet headed by Everett Landman to put on all its pressure.

New Holland is considered one of the possible finalists, but there are a lot of teams able to bump either New Holland or Ashville. Surprise teams, rather "dark-horses," are considered to be Pickaway, Williamsport, Atlanta, and Monroe. Jackson, Walnut, Saltcreek, Darby or, in fact, any of the others might come out ahead but their season's records do not favor them.

The girls' game tonight throws together Walnut and Darby. The latter team went through the season unbeaten until it met Walnut on the Derby court, then lost in a great game. The outcome of this game looks like a toss-up.

Babb to Officiate

Kroger Babb, popular Wilmington official, will be in charge of all games. Babb will be handling his third consecutive Pickaway-county tournament, and no one has yet found any reason to criticize his work. A thorough knowledge of all the rules of the game, speed necessary to keep on top the play, and a true sense of sportsmanship make Babb one of the most sought-after officials in southern Ohio.

Tourney officials did not go wrong in employing him. We'll be seeing you tonight.

RUNYAN LEADING FIELD IN FLORIDA GOLF MEET

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 21.—(UP)—Despite a brilliant 68, Paul "Little Poison" Runyan today commanded only a one-stroke over the field in the $2,500 St. Petersburg open golf tournament at the Lakewood course.

Hard on his heels were Johnny Revolta, P. G. A. champion, and Johnny Hines, who were tied with 69's.

About This And That In Many Sports

Tournament on Tonight

Tonight's the night—You take your choice; we haven't any

First game's 7 o'clock and other contests follow at 8, 9 and 10—OUR WARNING: be there early

Who'll be Winnah?

The w.m.h. ! ! ! ? ? That won't be known until Feb. 29 about 10 p. m. and there are very few persons even inkling what might happen—Despite the splendid Ashville record this tournament is as wide open as any we can recall in the last six years—There are several teams strong enough to upset the old dope bucket—Ashville meets its first test at 8 o'clock this evening, and it is in the form of the Monroe twp quintet, which forced the Kauber-men to turn on the steam last week

Ashville, Darby Win

Regardless of who wins the tournament Ashville boys and Darby girls are sure of trophies, presented by The Herald—They'll be put on display somewhere up-town next week and will be presented at the conclusion of the tournament—Possession is for a year but any team leading the league for three straight years gains permanent possession

Van Zandt and Wilson

Supt. M. C. Warren of Pickaway, tournament manager, has all his arrangements made and has appointed Carol Van Zandt as official time-keeper and Wayne Wilson as official scorer—Van Zandt is a member of the Pickaway faculty and Wilson a Pickaway grad, and an efficient lad—It'll seem strange without New Holland represented on the scoring bench since Earl Hickie and Raymond French have held forth for quite a while—A county ruling prevented New Holland from again managing the tournament this year although the Bulldogs deserved the right—A new ruling barred any school from running it three years in a row, thus the honor? (Which includes a lot of hard work and responsibility) fell on Pickaway's shoulders

Team Comes First

There are a lot of outstanding athletes on the various teams this year, and all will be gunning for all tournament honors—Though all the boys would like to be selected on an all-star team they will be doing everything possible for the good of their respective teams—In this county of ours, team and school come first, then individual glory—It is easy to detect any boy who strives to help his own chances but forgets his school, and this type of cager is usually out in the cold when the selections are announced

Many Boys Do Well

Some of the boys who have gone great guns this year are: Campbell of Atlanta, Chuck Ater of New Holland, Hanson of Williamsport, Long of Monroe, Liff of Darby, Smoky Williams of Commercial Point, Diz Dean of Muhlenberg, Keller of Jackson, Young, Millar and Gregg of Ashville, Rhodes and Anderson of Pickaway, Minor of Saltcreek, M. Matz of Washington, Lynch of Walnut

 The name of Ev Landman of New Holland is not in this list, but he usually waits until the tournament to turn on ***

BUDDY HASSETT JOINS DODGERS

Stengel Sells Leslie to Giants, Buys Minor Star

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—(UP)—Making good their promise to bring a host of new faces into the lineup this year, the Brooklyn Dodgers today purchased another minor league star—First Baseman Johnny (Buddy) Hassett of the Newark Bears.

Hassett will replace husky Sam Leslie, who was sold to the New York Giants yesterday for a reported sum of $25,000.

The deal is advantageous to both Brooklyn and the Giants. It gives the Dodgers one of the most promising minor leaguers of 1936 and will enable Bill Terry, Giant player-manager, to have an understudy in case he decides to retire from the playing field this season.

The deal was accomplished only after several lengthy conferences in which the New York Yankees also figured.

Terry, who said late last season that he would spend most of his time on the bench this year if he could find an experienced first baseman, originally had tried to secure Hassett. But the Yankees, who control Newark, objected on the grounds that it would bring a star they had developed too close to home.

Hassett, a graduate of Manhattan college, is 24 and bats and throws left-handed. In 1933 he was sent to Newark by the Yankees and immediately was farmed to Wheeling. In 1934 he played with Norfolk, stealing 56 bases and batting .360. Last year, with Columbus, he broke an ankle in June and didn't return to action until September. Even so, he hit .337 in 78 games.

YOUTH, VETERAN MEET

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 21.—(UP)—Patty Berg, schoolgirl sensation of Minneapolis, and the veteran Maureen Orcutt Crews, of Miami, emerged from a field of the aristocracy of women's golf to meet today in the 18-hole finals of the Palm Beach championship.

3 HORSES PICKED AS FAVORITES IN CALIFORNIA RACE

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 21.—(UP)—Horsemen today refused to be moved by hunches and tips on the winner of tomorrow's $100,000 added Santa Anita handicap as virtually all experts named Discovery, Top Row and Time Supply the "solid" horses.

"Stick with the champions," handicappers warned as they cast anxious eyes to the heavens which were prepared momentarily to send down more rain on the muddy racing strip at Santa Anita.

NINE MICHIGAN ATHLETES BARRED FROM CONTESTS

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 21.—(UP)—Nine University of Michigan athletes have been declared ineligible for competition because of their scholastic ratings.

Those who fell below the high standards of scholarship set by the university were announced last night after a meeting of the board of control of physical education.

They were: Dave Hunn, veteran trackman; and four sophomores, Ray Stannard, half miler; Jim Kingsley, pole vaulter; and Howard Bratt and Leon Moore, high jumpers; Earl Meyers, veteran basketball player; Dick Berryman and Dick Griggs, wingmen on the hockey squad, and Robert Brumby, wrestler, were also declared ineligible.

LABOR TROUBLE FORCES CAGE GAME CANCELLED

AKRON, Feb. 21.—(UP)—Labor difficulties today had caused the University of Akron to postpone indefinitely its game scheduled for tonight with Mount Union college. Picket lines prevent the teams from playing at the Goodyear gymnasium and university officials were unable to secure another floor.

Earlier in the week, trouble among the rubber workers also necessitated postponement of the Kent State contest. It is expected both games will be re-scheduled when the Goodyear strike is settled.

BOLES "BOOGING" PLEA WINS STUDENT ACTION

WOOSTER, Feb. 21.—(UP)—The latest in collegiate athletics from the standpoint of the spectator is "silent boogieing."

Following an appeal from L. C. Boles, athletic director, Wooster college students pledged not to make oral protestations of officials' decisions at basketball games here.

However, Roger Curfman, a senior student from Cleveland Heights, O., felt the undergraduates must express themselves. So Curfman spent a half-day in printing large placards with the word "BOOG" in various languages.

He distributed them among the student body and now when a decision doesn't satisfy, the Wooster boosters have their "BOO" signs.

FIVE OF OHIO TOURNAMENT OFFICIALS ARE DISCLOSED

COLUMBUS, Feb. 21.—(UP)—Five of the six officials who will work the state high school basketball tournament here March 19-20-21 were announced today by H. R. Townsend, commissioner of the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

The officials were selected at a meeting of the State Board of Control Feb. 3, but their identity kept a secret to prevent schools bidding for their services during the final weeks of the season.

Officials selected were: Earl D. Gross, New Philadelphia; E. J. Bradley, Cleveland; F. G. Skibbie, Bowling Green; J. M. Hummon, Dayton and Nick Stoneham, Columbus.

The first four officials will work throughout the tournament and will receive $75. Stoneham will officiate only the first day and will be paid $30.

Brandon T. "Butch" Grover, Ohio University coach, was named with Stoneham as a one day official, but declined the offer.

An official to replace Grover will be chosen by M. A. Shepard, Kingston, a member of the state board representing southeastern Ohio.

Gross is the only official in the group who has ever worked a state tournament previously. He officiated in both the 1932 and the 1933 meets.

Miss Whitney, featured in Paramount's "Millions in the Air," which comes to the Cliftona theatre Friday and Saturday, is being hailed as the fastest dancer in the world.

"I found out early in the game," she explained, "that the only way to become a speed dancer was to take my time at everything else."

Charles Bickford, who battles as a wild man against the wild animals who seek his life and the lives of others, is the star.

These are just some of the highlights of Universal's "East of Java," the picture in which Bickford nearly lost his life when a lion attacked him. It features Elizabeth Young, Frank Albertson, Leslie Fenton, Clarence Muse and others, coming to this theatre Saturday.

For the first time in his screen career, famous George Arliss impersonates a hobo! It occurs in "Mister Hobo," the new GB production showing Sunday and Monday at the Circle Theatre.

Shorn of the sartorial magnificence which has been connected with all his illustrious cinematic impersonations of the past, Arliss is now seen as a knight of the road. Instead of the man-of-the-world garments of the past, he dresses as any old tramp would.

It would be hard to recognize Arliss in "Spike" the vagabond with his pepper-and-salt hair, walrus moustache, unshaven chin down-at-heel shoes tied with pieces of string, a weird assortment of rags in place of jacket and trousers.

C. A. C. MINSTREL PROVIDES ENTERTAINING EVENING

ANOTHER CROWD TO SEE SECOND NIGHT'S FROLIC

End Men and Interlocutor
Furnish Many Jokes; Feature Numbers Splendid

The Grand theatre was well-filled Thursday evening, and indications today were that another large crowd would attend the second evening's performance on Minstrel Flashes, staged by the Circleville Athletic Club.

The presentation provided an interesting and entertaining evening. Many of the jokes "pulled" by Ed C. Ebert and his premiere end men, Johnny Heiskell, Byron Eby, Robert Elkins, Frank Marion, Joe Lynch, and Robert Maloney, brought loud and long laughter from the audience.

Mr. Ebert as interlocutor did a good job.

With last night's performance history and the singing bellhops and others in the show more confident of their lines and music, tonight's should be even better than Thursday's show.

Miss Iona Miller is the accompanist while a representative of the John B. Rogers Co. is directing the show. An orchestra also is assisting.

Show in Ball Room

The first part of the show was woven about a hotel ball room. Mr. Ebert came on the stage to announce that entertainment for the evening had disappointed the hotel management, but that bellhops and others about the hotel would put on the show.

Soloists included: Mrs. George Himrod, Memory Lane; John Heiskell, Rauputin; Byron Eby, I'll Never Again; Joe Lynch, Lulu's Back in Town; Earl Millions, Chasing Shadows; Eugene Smith, That's What You Think; Frank Marion, The Girl at the Ironing Board; Robert Elkins, Blue Roses, and W. Joe Burns, Old Black Joe, considered by many as one of the best presentations of the minstrel. DeWitt Bach, tenor, sang two songs both of which went over well with the crowd.

At the conclusion of the hotel scene and a short intermission, several specialty acts, all of which received much applause, were presented.

Hilare Haacker was handsomely dressed and with his accordion provided much entertainment. Marvene Wallace did a splendid Spanish dance, and Jimmy Mowery's tap dance was well-done. Carl Palm and his musical saw received a rousing hand.

The Poison Ivy ballet featuring some well-known business and professional men was a scream. A Bit of Life, a long-distance telephone skit, It's How You Say It, and the Wedding Day in which Frank Lynch and Sam Chambers took the "for better or worse" oath brought their share of applause. The synopating sinners with Miss Pauline Hall as soloist provided Flash No. 9.

Some good seats are still available for tonight's show which starts at 8:15. All seats are 40 cents to adults and 25 cents to children. The gallery price is 15 cents.
